
Digital Children's Book Fair 2014 at amu in Tokyo from October 8th–13th

We, Digital Ehon Co., Ltd, NPO CANVAS and “amu” will hold “Digital Children's Book Fair 2014 at amu” from October 8th to October 13th in Tokyo.

The Digital Children's Book Fair is the first international event focused on digital publishing for children. Digital Children's books including interactive ebooks, apps, and other forms of learning products in many languages will be exhibited. We are hoping to create a platform as worldwide as possible where authors, illustrators, app developers and distributors will gather and discuss the digital world of children's books.

We'll proudly exhibit about 250 digital contents for children from 40 countries this time.

This space will welcome and satisfy people all ages from small children to adults who are interested in digital contents.

There will be also a talk show and some workshops at the same venue. We'll announce you again once they're scheduled. Please look forward to that as well.

We are open to your request for an interview and waiting for your visit.

Thank you for your consideration.
